Invictus

NOW- JULY 3rd, 2022

Winner of the 2009 Tony Award for Best Play, God of Carnage relates an evening in the lives of two couples, residents of a tony Brooklyn neighborhood, who meet to discuss a playground incident. Alan and Annette's son hit Michael and Veronica's son in the face with a stick, resulting in two broken teeth. The four agree to discuss the incident civilly, but the polite veneer breaks down as the night wears on and drinks are imbibed. The couples initially spar against each other, but the men gang up on the women, and the spouses switch sides as the fighting continues. Reza's play suggests that our civilized trappings do poorly to hide our venality and bile.

Each piece is for sale at the end of the show and comes with a certificate of authenticity. She also paints landscapes from her travels and a colorful dog once in a while.
